"KEEP AWAY FROM YOUNG GIRLS," JUDGE TELLS EX-SOLDIER

Charles Kilver, regular army soldier, who was arrested last Saturday morning charged with attempting to entice a young girl, was dismissed by Judge Maxfield in the municipal court this morning. Judge Maxfield held that the testimony offered was not sufficient to convict him.

Kilver told the court that he had served four years in the canal zone and had only arrived in Janesville Friday evening. He admitted talking to the young girl and insisted he gave her a quarter and told her she had better go home.

The girl was then called to tell her story. She said she was 19 years of age, and stoutly denied that she had spoken to the khaki-clad man first. She said the soldier approached her and after giving her a quarter told her to walk down the street. She told him she was going home on her own and he announced that he would ride with her.

"I told him he couldn't do that and I went in a store to get away from him," the girl told the court.
Kilver told the judge he was 51 years of age and simply talked to the girl for a few minutes and then left. "Hereafter you leave all girls of tender years alone unless they are in trouble," Judge Maxfield said before dismissing the charge.

Octogenarians in Spirited Butter Fights

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Rome, May 27.—Octogenarians of both sexes participate every day in Rome in spirited battles for butter. The fights for the fresh, creamy product occur at six o'clock each morning and seven o'clock each evening.

Butter is so scarce in Rome that when any is put on sale at a creamery the place is stormed by buyers. Aged men and women, girls, boys, persons of all ages, engage in a scramble for it.

Women have part of their clothing torn off and scream in pain in the pressure of the mob. They charge with disheveled hair and raging countenances, very mad at the roughness of the others. If a woman is successful she receives two ounces of butter for which she pays 30 cents.

PEACE —and— WAR

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

It is expected the German peace delegation will present its counter proposals to the peace terms at Versailles today. It is known that the German peace delegation has been completed, and as the extension of the time limit expires tomorrow noon, the official attitude of Germany toward the treaty must be made known without delay.

Dispatches from Berlin and Paris indicate the Germans will base their proposals on the claim that they accepted the offer of the allies to permit Wilson's 14 points and other assertions by allied representatives that the peace would not be one of violence.

There are reports which seem to reflect a disposition on the part of the allies not to parley long if the Germans actually refuse to sign the treaty. The Belgian frontier has been closed and that all Belgian soldiers have been recalled from leave. It is further reported that general mobilization of the Belgian army will be ordered as soon as it is definitely known the Germans will not sign the treaty, if that decision is reached by the enemy delegation.

Allied commanders along the Rhine where the British, American and French army hold bridgeheads, are reported to have held conferences relative to action if the Germans decline to conclude peace on the allied terms.

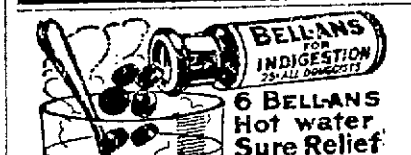

It may be the treaty with Austria will not be presented Friday as planned. The Italian delegation is declared to be delaying consideration of clauses of the treaty dealing with the southern frontiers of Austria, insisting that the question of the frontier shall be coupled with that of the Dalmatian coast. It seems probable the whole treaty will not be presented at the first meeting between the Austrian and allied delegations. The military and naval repatriation clauses may be omitted, together with definite demands regarding Rhine.

Limited recognition may be accorded the all-Russian government at Omsk in the form of lending aid in supplies and money to Admiral Kolchak, head of the Omsk government. This will be conditioned upon the holding of general elections. The military arm reaches Moscow, the re-conquering of the Russian constituent assembly elected during the incumbency of A. F. Kerensky as premier and nominal head of the Russian revolutionary government.

Country's Dark Days.

The saying, "not worth a continental," came from the fact that the continental currency, issued by the continental congress, was worthless, or nearly so, during the revolution and after. As the continental congress had no power to levy taxes it was unable to redeem its promises to pay. Besides, the country was flooded with counterfeit which could not be detected.

CHILDREN OF MARY
OF ST. PATRICK'S
PARISH IN PROGRAM

Monday evening the Children of Mary of St. Patrick's parish held their annual banquet. It was preceded by a varied but well selected program which drew much applause from the appreciative audience of one hundred members and some invited guests.

The musical numbers, both instrumental and vocal, were well applauded. The dancers from Miss Josephine Fitzgerald's school reflected well upon the work she is accomplishing. The humorous readings helped to make the program a success. The playlet also drew many a laugh. All the characters were ably portrayed, but the special mention must be made of the characterization by the Misses Margaret Gillespie, Lucille Roscoe, and Lillian Connell. The Very Rev. Dean Reilly closed the program with a congratulatory address, after which a luncheon was enjoyed by all.

The K. C.'s donated the use of their hall. The program was as follows:

Piano solo, Margaret Henning; song, "Night Winds from the Sea," C. of M. chorus; Scarf dance, pianist, Mrs. Manning; Evelyn Smith, Virginia Heffernan, Charlotte Caffey, Caroline Manning, Lorraine Kennedy, Margaret Higgins, Gladys Turner.

Playlet: "The Tipsey Pudding." Grandmother Bustle, Margaret Gillespie; Mrs. Bustle, Lucille Roscoe; Mary Bustle, Rose Gray; Biddy O'Bafferty, Freda Peschik, Kitty Clover, Ellen Nelson; Miss Moonshine, Lillian Connell; Hazel Lock, Helen Kellogg; song, "Murmuring Sea," C. of M. chorus; reading, Helen Garbutt; piano solo, Marion Hennings; Hungarian dance, Margaret Higgins, Janet Riley, Caroline Manning; reading, Catherine Scheller; song, "Come Away," chorus.

Hides His Wad in Old
Shoe; Goes a Fishing

[BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS.]

Los Angeles, Cal., May 28.—Harry Osborne claims he is one of the original hard luck men. He wanted to go fishing, but he had $215 and he looked all over the house for a safe place to hide it. Finally he decided upon an old pair of shoes. He hid the money in them and went forth gayly, but on his return found his mother had sent the shoes to a repair shop. Osborne dropped his string of fish and rushed to the shoemaker but the latter informed him he had seen nothing of the $215.

JAPANESE IMPERIALISM.

It is not pleasing to reflect that imperialism, dead in Germany, was never so much alive as now in Japan.
The civilized world has destroyed German imperialism at fearful cost. Will it some day find Japanese imperialism as deadly a foe of free institutions?

Those who know Japan best suspect her most. They know that Japan has never kept a promise unless it has suited her interests to do so. They know that Japanese ideals are as far apart as the poles from our ideals. They know that Japanese designs include not only Korea, Shantung and the islands of the Pacific, but all of China and parts of Siberia
as well.

Prof. Jeremiah Jenks, one of the greatest American authorities on far eastern questions, throws some interesting though ugly sidelights on Japanese policy in the June issue of Current Opinion. After pointing out that Shantung is already too densely populated to be of use to the Japanese for colonization purposes, and recounting the various steps taken by Japan to dominate the military, financial and political policy of China, he goes on to say:

"The diplomatic policy of Japan in her dealings in the Far East from the close of the Russo-Japanese war to the present time, has been one of success, deceit, bluster and force. She has secured, by the use of arms, the American treaty to put the fate of almost 10,000,000 of Chinese in Shantung in the hands of a government that deliberately and continuously is following that policy? There are other considerations when the welfare of a people is concerned.

"Perhaps history shows no other so heroic effort to free a people from a ruinous moral curse as that of China during the last ten years in her efforts to free her people from the evils of opium and its compounds. The government seemed to have succeeded to a most remarkable degree. But within the last two or three years the Japanese, apparently with the full knowledge and connivance of the Japanese government, have practically forced the Chinese to a backward step. The testimony seems absolute that during 1918, contrary to Japan's formal agreement at the opium conference, tons of opium and morphine were sent into China by the Japanese, with the connivance of the Japanese government.

"What may be the Japanese course in China may be seen from the conduct in Korea where the Japanese acted as an inferior race and with severe and uncalled-for barbarity.
The Japanese have employed the phrase 'Monroe Doctrine' to explain what they mean by their desired dominant position in the Far East, but the phrase is used to cloak a Japanese policy of military or political aggression for its own selfish purposes. On practically the universal testimony of American and British business men Japan has repeatedly and continuously violated the principles of the open door in Manchuria, and everywhere in China where she can exert an influence."

The statesmen of Europe have done nothing but make blunders for centuries. At present they are making concerns in placing Germany in her proper place but they are encouraging the growth of imperialism in Japan.
They favor Japanese control of China and would have given the Japanese a foothold in eastern Siberia but for the influence of the United States.
Are they not now making one of the greatest blunders of all time?

PLAYGROUNDS.

Prof. Holden in a talk before the Twilight club, last winter, said: "You are in the midst of a great industrial and business development and you will receive many benefits from it.
There are many things you have to do to adjust yourself to this growth.
But bear in mind this one thing: The boys of your city are your greatest asset."

Prof. Holden is a man with a vision.
He is able to see farther than just that which is immediately before him.
He has not only made a study of business, plants and other material things, but he has gone farther and has made a study of human beings. He knows that to bring success in any endeavor right men and women have to be back of that endeavor. He looks at the children of today with a view of measuring them up as the men and women of tomorrow.

Janesville boys and girls are going to be the leaders in the business and social circles of the city a few years hence. The success of the community depends upon them. Their training will have a great deal to do with the success they achieve. In order to get the best results from them they have to be kept contented—to have so keen an interest in their city that they cannot be lured away by other attractions.

We have given the children little consideration, aside from providing an education and giving the comforts of a home. They do not have the opportunities to play that the children in most of the cities of the country
do. In fact they need playgrounds.
Provision has been made each summer to allow some of the smaller children to use the school grounds for play grounds but that does not embrace the older children, boys especially. The boys should have a place where they can play baseball and other games. They are not allowed to play in the streets because of the danger of accidents. If they go onto a vacant lot they are generally chased by the owner or some of the neighbors. It is natural for a boy to play.

If he does not, something is the matter with him. If our city does not provide him the place to play, it is the city's fault if he leaves as soon as home ties are loosened.

If the city is not able to buy a place where the boys can play ball unmolested, perhaps it would be possible to rent a vacant piece of ground and fix it up. Or if some citizen has a large enough tract for a baseball diamond and would donate its use, arrangements could be made for a superintendent who would direct the play and see that every "kid" in the city had a place to pull off games.
There are enough men in the city interested in the welfare of the boys to subscribe to a fund to maintain such a playground if it is provided.

ANOTHER HONOR.

An American aviator has crossed the Atlantic ocean in an airplane.
He has accomplished a feat which a few years ago would not have been even dreamed of by the most visionary. America gets the honor and pays tribute to the courageous men who made the trip.

But in these days of scientific wonders the public accepts the announcement that the trip over the water was made successfully as calmly as they accept ordinary news of the day.
They accept the feat as a matter of course. It shows that people now-days believe nothing is impossible.
The war has taught them that the inventive genius of man and his determination to achieve is almost unlimited.

President Wilson at a dinner in Paris said that he was delighted to know that his presidency was not ahead of him. This announcement comes as a relief to many who feared the president might be induced to be a candidate for another term.

The present congress has started to undo some of the things the administration forces put by shaping up for the repeal of the luxury tax. The house ways and means committee favors immediate action on the measure. Let the good work proceed.

The daylight saving law repeal has been placed before the house. Its passage will mean that the majority of the workers of the country will be deprived of an extra hour of recreation.

Inasmuch as we have several consecutive days of warm weather most of the fellows have agreed that it is "time to take 'em off."

ON THE SPUR of the MOMENT

ROY K. MOULTON

Shoe shines for soldier may sound like a catch line on the order of "Truly rural" and "Do you stock shot socks and spurs?" but William J. Mulligan, chairman of the Knights of Columbus committee on war activities found the shoes necessary for soldier and sailors and marines sojourning in Janesville, the town where a shine doesn't last long.

As professional shiners cost money,
and as the war had, anyhow, reduced the number of professional shiners so that everybody couldn't be waited on, Mulligan had shoeshining apparatus installed in the K. of C. club in High Holborn, London, with the result that now the boys emerging from the K. of C. quarters with their handsome countenances reflected in the toes of their army shoes. Once again we must hand it to this guy Mulligan.

GARDEN SEEDS.

My congressman sent garden seeds,
sent garden seed galore.
'Twas claimed that they were better than the seeds sold at the store.
I planted them as I had planted common seeds before;
Those fancy seeds grew common weeds, just weeds and nothing more.

You see, I merely planted them and let it go at that;
I didn't cultivate the ground or hoe
it, my garden plot;
I didn't nurse those seeds along, for I forgot them, flat;
I merely raised a crop of weeds, of weeds profuse and fat.

'Tis so in life, a man may be prepared for gallant deeds;
The seeds of genius in him sown, the richest of all seeds.
But if it is not nursed along according to its needs,
It will, uncultivated, bring forth nothing much but weeds.

The London "Times" claims to have discovered something new in the fact that certain dishonest persons are dying ordinary middle-class fish and selling them for goldfish at huge profits. "We bought our first goldfish" in 1889, and, in fact, it was the first fish-ram game we ever went up against. The paint washed off in about a week, and it turned out to be an ordinary perch. If they call that something new in London, somebody is going to take some gold bricks over there some day and reap tremendous harvest.

What a field for glass-cutters and rubber oysters.

Personally we hope to buy that 100,000 peace treaty in volumes on the installment plan and read it at our leisure and we hope the peace will last until we get it read.

We are indebted to the Chicago
"Tribune" for the information that Mr. A. G. Bouquet is professor of vegetable gardening at the Oregon Agricultural college.

Speaking of "comic-strip" artists,
did you ever see Goldberg in a bathing suit?

New York widow tells the court she

The army of Venezuela has just lost a general, but the loss of Venezuelan general is nothing to worry about.
Now, if it had been a private the army might have had to go out of business until they could get a new one.

When the German delegates march

HONOR.

Nothing matters only this:
That the light you made was fair.
Goals of glory you may miss,
Honors you may fail to wear,
But if you have done your best
You have met the real test.

Not in victory alone
Is the worth of mortals told,
God has never made it known
That he sent us here for gold.
We must dare for what is right
But we need not win the fight.

Nothing matters save that we Shall not sell our souls for gain;
Shall not, for the victory,
On our honor place a stain;
Better it is not to win
Than to triumph, black with sin.

Take the failure if you must.
Think no more about the prize,
If your battle has been just.
You have conquered in His eyes.
You shall rest in peace at night,
If you've made an honest fight.

LUXEMBURG TO SEND DELEGATION TO PARIS

Luxemburg, Tuesday, May 27.—Secretary of State Ruefer today read in the chamber of deputies a letter from President Wilson inviting a Luxemburg delegation to come to Paris. He said the government was ready to leave tonight for Paris to tell the peace conference that the people of Luxemburg wish their country to remain autonomous and to conclude an economic union with France or Belgium or if that was found impossible to open negotiations with those two countries to learn their conditions.

He added that the government was also asked that Luxemburg be admitted to the league of nations. According to a Paris telegram the delegation will be received Wednesday.

Airplane Service for Chicago Suburbanites

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Chicago, May 28.—Aerial passenger service to and from Chicago and its North Shore suburbs is planned by the Chicago Yacht club, it was said today. Charles L. Thorne, commodore of the club, said the first flying boat would be delivered within a few weeks and other boats would be placed in commission as soon as possible. It now takes one hour or two for wealthy suburbanites to get to the city, but with the projected service in operation it is asserted from 15 to 20 minutes only will be required.

They are unsurpassed in their general character and construction by any other suits that are offered at like prices.

The styles and materials are so new, so

There are many "nifty" suits of strik-

There are also a long list of plainer weaves

Bitter or Better Baking

A letter makes a great difference in a word. A word makes a great difference in baking powders.

If the little word "alum" appears on the label it may mean bitter baking.
If the words "Dr. Price's" stand out bold and strong, they surely mean BETTER baking.

This is only one reason why it pays to use

"WE NEED MORE ROOM FOR PLAY" SAYS FAUST

"We need larger grounds for play," said School Supt. H. H. Faust this morning, speaking of the playground situation in the city. "Too many children have to play on the Webster school grounds. Many evenings there are as many as 100 children playing there. When we get our new high school there ought to be enough grounds to provide for recreation for the grown-ups as well as the children."

The children of the fourth and fifth wards have to play on the Webster school grounds. Of the four grounds which have been provided at the Webster, Washington, Adams and Webster schools, the Webster is by far the smallest.

The committee, composed of E. J. Himmerson, chairman; W. J. Himmerson, and M. H. Faust, is making plans for the summer. Mr. Faust is securing supervisors to take charge of the program. Last year a young woman had charge of each school. Whether men or women will act as supervisors this year has not been announced.

The program of activities is not planned as yet, but in all probability contests in swimming, running, jumping and tennis will be in order.

H. S. CIVICS CLASS IN ANTI-DIRT FIGHT

The civic class at high school met this morning as it does every morning. But its routine was different this morning. The students of the class made a resolution. "To ask the housewives to join with us in refusing to accept any food product which has been subjected to the conditions mentioned below, or to any other as equally dangerous and unnecessary. If you co-operate with us, undoubtedly we will have a better and more beautiful Janesville."

But to begin at the beginning, the class argued as follows: "This is good health food in Janesville. Well, you'll say 'My health is good,' and you'll go on living as you have always lived. Do you realize that your way of living is menacing the health of others? You'll say, 'No. Oh, no.' I'm very careful of my garbage, and I never dump rubbish where I am forbidden to and I kill flies when they bother me. What more could I do?" "But there is something more that you can and must do. You have no doubt gone into a grocery store to buy candy for the kiddies. The clerk was in a hurry and his hands worked more quickly than the scoop. So of course he used them. Before waiting on you he had handled money from—no one knows where. Would it be possible for his hands to carry germs from the money to the candy and the candy to hand them down to the kiddies? And how about the meat that lay in the shop window all day which you ate for supper? Were you sure that that good pie you bought for dinner had not been exposed to flies and dust?"

News Notes from Movieland

BY DAISY DEAN

Doug and Charlie taking a vacation ride in their new "Silver."

Doug Fairbanks and Charlie Chaplin have been taking a little vacation and cutting up something terrible, so they say, witness the photograph, but soon they must get to work.

Telegraph wires have been kept pretty hot between New York, Los Angeles and Catalina Island, where William G. McAdoe, Douglas Fairbanks and Charlie Chaplin sit, sharpened pencils in hand, discussing the possibilities of producing a special film to stimulate constructive publicity for Boy Scout work, June 3 to 14.

William G. McAdoe, chairman of the citizens' committee who is shouldering the responsibility of the campaign, assured James E. West, chief of the Boy Scouts, that he could secure the co-operative services of Fairbanks and Chaplin. This called for the exchanging of telegrams with the result that Doug and Charlie will stage a special movie of a comedy nature to include myriads of Boy Scouts.

Both Doug and Charlie will take turns at directing each other. This marks the first time that a millionaire actor will be directed by a millionaire director. Fairbanks and Chaplin are to be aided as life members of the Boy Scout organization, which they have accepted as a tremendous compliment from "Young America."

The week beginning June 3, and ending June 14, according to the usual custom, the boys of the Boy Scout organization have been set apart as Boy Scout week for the purpose of enlarging the Boy Scout organization. Associate membership in the Boy Scout organization will be offered to the mothers and fathers of American boys and to other adult American citizens.

SOME TEAM! Tom Moore, being a baseball enthusiast, recently organized a baseball team out in Oliver City. It is named "The Star Goldwyn Nine" and contains the following well known actors: Norbert Lusk, Thomas Buchanan, John Ewers, Milton Sills, Edwin Sturges, Phineas Winterspoon, Joseph Cohen, and Owen Moore. Tom Moore is shortstop.

MRS. DREW TO STAY ALONE "Squared," the next film in which Mrs. Drew and the late Sidney Drew appear, is said to be quite different from previous offerings. Polly and Henry in this film are not married nor do they get married in the picture. In fact, they are not even engaged. Not only is this film different in that Henry and Polly are not man and wife, but also it is a diversion because it is not written around the home and the domestic life of these two leads.

Following the release of "Squared," two comedies in which Mrs. Drew will star alone, will be presented. They are "Bunkered," a golf story, and "Night of the Dub," another highly amusing two-reeler. In both of these stories Mr. Drew had a hand in the writing.

Shipyards Lay Off Men Green Bay, May 23.—The recent order of the United States shipping board for suspension of work on many government contracts has caused the shipyards of the Northwestern Engineering works here to lay off about 100 of the 800 men that were employed during the war. Keels for the boats affected by the suspension order have not been laid however. One tug has been delivered to the government from the yards, two will sail this week and 18 boats are either in the water or in berths, ready to deliver to the government according to contract.

DICE OF DESTINY

By JACKSON GREGORY

"It seems very clear," he said then, his eyes smiling. He folded the paper carefully and thrust it into his pocket. "Where is the need for explanation?"

"The will was made last night," said Stanway crisply. "The ink of the signatures was hardly dry when he disappeared. What is the connection of the two events, señor?"

"You ask riddles, señor," Torre shrugged his shoulders.

A servant in snowy white linen livery appeared in the dining room doorway.

"El Capitan Juarez to speak with the señorita," he announced.

Stanway started, swinging about, forgetting Torre for the instant.

"Of the rebel army?" he demanded.

"Si, señor! Of the Insurrectos."

"I can guess his errand," remarked Torre indifferently. "He will no doubt wish to speak with me. Tell him, muchacho, that as the De la Guerra heir I shall speak with him—when I have finished my coffee. A little more sugar, Pedro."

CHAPTER V.

The Game Begins.

Teresa de la Guerra's face went red and white, and Torre, seeing, smiled. She heard in the words only an insult to her beloved papa grande, knowing as she so well knew that of all men the old Spaniard hated his arrogant young kinsman most implacably.

"We don't understand," she said presently, turning her back upon the man at table and addressing Stanway. "Perhaps Captain Juarez call will clear matters for us. Will you come with me, Señor Stanway?"

Torre's face darkened as he watched them go out together.

In the drawing room, in much worn uniform bespeaking his rank, a very broad, heavy-set Mexican, swarthy, hard-featured, keen-eyed, was waiting. He bowed deeply as they entered.

"Señorita," he said briskly, his eyes disregarding Stanway and resting upon the girl's face in a keen regard. "It is an unpleasant duty which brings me here this morning."

"Be seated," she said quietly, going to a chair. "But first, Captain Juarez, this is my friend, Señor Stanway" of the Painted Rock rancho."

The two men bowed coolly. Stanway remained standing near the girl's chair, while Juarez sat down.

"We of poor Mexico," said the captain shortly, "are fighting hard for a dear cause. We sacrifice ourselves, our hopes, our homes for the thing we love most, señorita."

"And that is our country. We do things which we do not like to do simply because it is our duty to take any opportunity which chance gives us to free the neck of our land from the foot of the tyrant."

Teresa bowed.

"And you have called this morning; you have crossed the border—"

"At the behest of a Mexican's duty. Señorita, your grandfather is well and sends his love to you."

"Tell me," she cried impetuously, "where is he?"

"Many miles beyond the border," he answered succinctly. "In the hands of friends—if he accedes to our demands," significantly.

"And those demands?" curiously.

"I have not as yet made of him," returned the captain. "Allow me to explain, señorita. I know Señor de la Guerra, if not personally at least very well by repute. I know that he does not love my Mexico, and that he is very stubborn."

"Our cause needs money and he has it in great, unnecessary quantities."

"Had I made a demand upon him for a note to you, stating that he was held for ransom and urging you to pay it, I know that he would have refused. So I come straight to you, without as much as a word to him, informing you that unless the money is sent immediately—"

He broke off, shrugging his shoulders.

"You realize, señor," broke in Stanway coolly, "that this is rather an unusual sort of thing at this day? That it is not without danger to you? If the señorita were not disposed to give what you ask, if on the other hand we held you for the crime you have committed—"

Again the captain shrugged.

"It would mean imprisonment for me, or perhaps death," he answered promptly. "Things which a soldier faces every day of his life and grows to think nothing about. And—pardon me, señorita—it would mean the death of the Señor de la Guerra."

Again a little shiver trembled through the frame of the girl. Stanway, his eyes steady upon the Mexican's face, was silent a moment. Finally he said, turning to Teresa:

"Before you give this gentleman his answer, señorita, may I ask for a few words with you?"

"May I interrupt again?" It was Eduardo Ramon Torre, insolent and dehaughty, bowing in the doorway, a fresh, unlighted cigarette between his fingers. "Buenos dias, Señor el Capitán."

Captain Juarez stared at him fixedly, his hard eyes as insolent as those of Torre, and made no answer.

"I think, señor," went on Torre in mock courtesy, still lounging in the doorway, "that it is with me that you wish to deal. Am I not right, prima nita?" lightly to Teresa.

The girl's eyes darkened. Juarez looked from one to another curiously.

"I think," he said slowly, "that I can have business with no one except the señorita. She is the one to speak in a case like this one, since the old señor is not here to speak for himself and she is his heiress."

"Let your keen eyes rest on this," Torre drew the will from his pocket and carelessly tossed it into Juarez's lap.

The Mexican looked at it swiftly, his eye ran down the written sheet, and he started palpably when his glance rested upon the name Eduardo Ramon Torre.

"I have been misinformed," he cried, starting to his feet. "The señorita is not the heiress. It is Señor Torre who inherits!"

"Seguro," replied Torre, putting out his shapely hand for the will. "And I, señor, am that Señor Torre. Now, what do you want?"

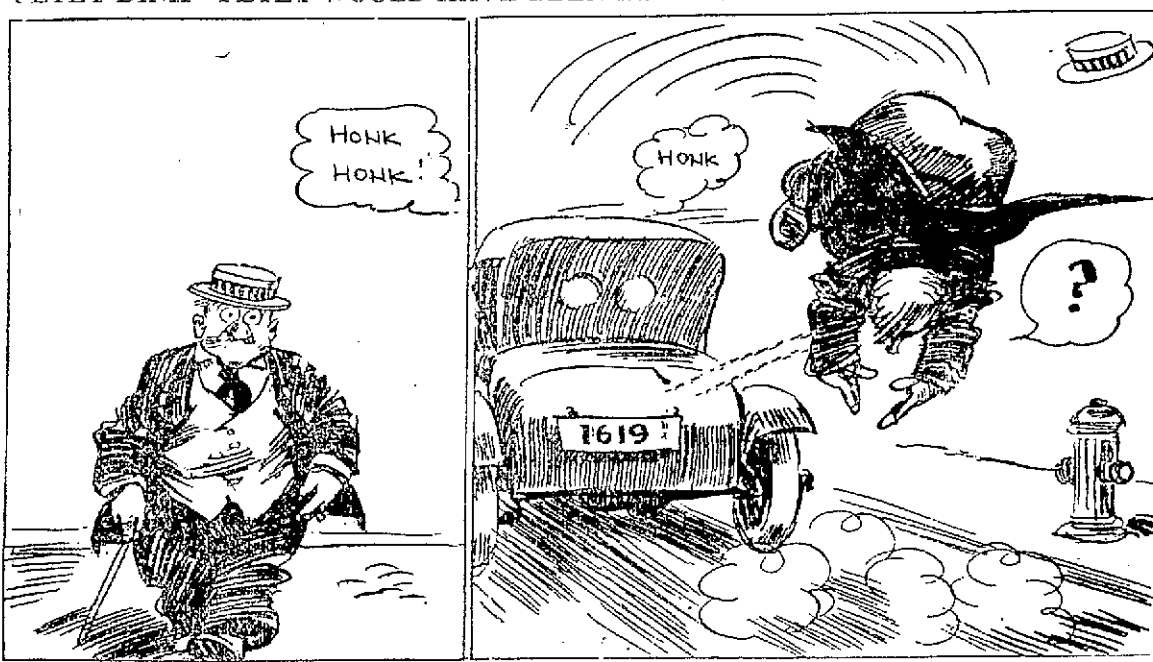

"This is true, señorita?" Juarez whirled about, his eyes bright and hard upon Teresa's.

"You come from papa grande," she answered him guardedly. "Did he not tell you of a change in his will?"

"We did not speak," Juarez reminded her. "As I have said, I knew that it would be useless to talk with him. He knows only that he is being held; he does not know why. I know only, and he is reported to the shrug so much a part of his method of speech, that rumor has it that you are his heiress, and this paper states that Torre inherits."

"Rumor at times is misinformed," Torre said smilingly. "You have the will and testament itself before you."

PETEY DINK—PETEY WOULD HAVE BEEN ALL RIGHT IF THE NUMBER HAD BEEN 0000.

THE WISHING PLANE

Jack was the first one to make out that the thing flying on the battleship was an American one. A few minutes later they could see the big guns on the deck very plainly, and the sailors working around the ship.

Captain Brave brought the airplane to a stop right alongside of the battleship and tossed a line to the sailors.

"It is this," said Juarez shortly. "El Señor de la Guerra is held by my men for ransom. Twenty thousand dollars will bring him back to you promptly, without a scratch on him. A refusal to pay will be a signal for his death."

"So," remarked Torre coolly. "It is only twenty thousand dollars. You are modest, señor!"

"American money," Juarez added as coolly.

"American money," nodded Torre. "That is better than Mexican pesos, at any rate. It is at least less insulting to my kinsman."

Captain Juarez made no reply. Teresa and Stanway looked at each other swiftly.

Torre, smiling as though the whole matter were merely amusing, addressed himself to the girl.

"Teresa," and she flushed under the easy familiarity, "perhaps the valiant captain has not yet breakfasted. He has a long ride before him and it would be better if he should not carry away a misunderstanding of the De la Guerra hospitality. Also, while he has his coffee, you and I might discuss the situation?"

"Yes," the girl agreed slowly. "That would perhaps be best." Her hand went to the bell cord to summon Pedro. "We have just breakfasted, señor captain. If you will go with Pedro he will see that you are served. And Señor Torre, Señor Stanway and myself can avail ourselves of the time to come to a decision."

The captain bowed, and with no hesitation turned his back on them to follow the servant to the dining room. Torre came in, sat down, crossing his legs with elaborate care to the crease in his trousers, and favored Stanway with a look which mocked openly.

"An interesting situation, is it not, señor?" he asked lightly.

"An extremely hazardous game you are playing, Torre," cried Stanway angrily.

"If?" Torre lifted his brows. "It is not I who play. It is I who watch the game."

"Watch the pawns your own fine hand has set moving?" was Stanway's heated retort. "Do you think that you can get away with a thing of this kind, Torre? Why, man, it smells to heaven!"

"Recklessness aside—at least shall we postpone them? There is a crisis demanding attention. Now," lifting his hand against Stanway's words. "I have a proposition to make—to you, Teresa."

"What is it?" she asked coldly.

"Merely this: As help to the De la Guerra estate I may be a prejudiced person. You, with no personal interest, and a quick flicker in his eyes at the girl's winking at his words, "are the one to decide. Shall the captain's request be granted? I leave it to you, señorita. Entirely to you."

Teresa bit her lip, the color surging angrily into her cheeks. She saw the trap as plainly as did Torre, as plainly as Stanway saw it. And she did not see the answer to make.

Here's Glorious Relief From Itching Skin Diseases

No More Fiery Pain If You use the Right Treatment

First of all, get it firmly fixed in your mind that the fiery, burning and itching that causes such pain and torture, is not a local skin disease. True, the skin is the scene of the attack, but the skin is fed by the blood and suffers from any impurity in the blood.

This explains why you have been so disappointed in getting any real, lasting relief from the use of ointments, salves, lotions, or other remedies applied to the surface of the skin.

The millions of tiny disease germs which infect the blood keep up a constant attack on the skin, and are not effected in the least by local treatment. They must be routed from the blood.

These germs which saturate the blood cannot be reached except through the blood. When you treat the local irritations with local applications, you must remember that the blood is feeding fresh new germs all the time, to keep the skin irritated, and until the supply of germs is cut off entirely, you cannot expect any real relief.

But S. S. S., the fine old blood remedy, goes directly after the germs that infect the blood, and puts them to rout. This remedy is strictly a blood purifier, and there is no disease germ that can withstand its attacks.

This is why S. S. S. gives such satisfactory results in eczema, netter, boils, pimples, or any other skin eruptions or disorder. By thoroughly purifying the blood, and cleansing it of every trace of disease germ, S. S. S. removes the cause of all skin eruptions, and restores its normal, healthy condition.

If you want relief that is lasting, because it goes to the seat of the trouble, get a bottle of S. S. S. today, and take it as directed, and satisfactory results will follow. It is sold by all drug stores. Special medical advice about your own case can be had without cost, by writing to Chief Medical Adviser, 102 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

THINK A MINUTE

WHAT is your doctor's first question? Why does he suspect constipation?

Because 90% of his patients are suffering from ailments caused directly or indirectly by the action of poisons formed in a sluggish intestinal tract.

These body poisons are absorbed by the blood and carried all over the body until the weakest organ, unable to withstand the poisonous contact, becomes infected and refuses to act properly. Unfortunately it is usually not until then that the doctor is consulted and asked to treat the diseased organ.

The surest way of purifying the blood and preventing the formation of these destructive body poisons is to prevent stagnation of food waste in the intestinal tract—to prevent constipation.

Constipation is not a matter to be taken lightly or neglected. It is either sufficient or safe to take castor oil, pills, salts, mineral waters, etc., in order to "force" bowel action. Such action does not cure constipation, it makes constipation a habit.

Nujol is entirely different from drugs as it does not force or irritate the bowels. Nujol prevents stagnation by softening the food waste and encouraging the intestinal muscles to act naturally, thus removing the cause of constipation and self-poisoning. It is absolutely harmless and pleasant to take.

Nujol helps Nature establish easy, thorough bowel evacuation at a given interval—the healthiest habit in the world. Get a bottle from your druggist today.

TEACHERS' UNION BREAKS RULE AND RE-ELECTS HEAD

Miss Alice Deal.

Miss Alice Deal of Washington is one of the many teachers who are trying to get the public to realize that the teacher has some rights and privileges in this world which have been denied her for many years. It is encouraging to note that many cities and school boards throughout the country are finally beginning to wake up to the fact that the school teacher, the grammar and high school teacher especially, is one of the most potent factors in Americanization and some are actually trying to show that they recognize this fact by raising the salaries. Most of the salaries of our American teachers, it may be noted, might be doubled and they still would be overpaid.

Miss Deal has been leading the fight of 1,000 district school teachers against the board of education on the question of teachers' rights which was brought in through the case of Miss Alice Deal, who was suspended without a hearing for her discussion of current events. Miss Deal is a strong worker in the Teachers' Union and has just been unanimously re-elected president of the union in Washington. By holding the office for a second term in the written rule of the union is broken. Heretofore a president has been elected to serve only one term.

That the teachers' union is recognized, and also the worth of Miss Deal as its president, is shown by the fact that the American Labor Organization, including more than 100,000 district residents in their membership, are planning to put Miss Deal on the board of education at the next elections.

The conference will deal with the work of the peace conference and will elaborate the league of nations and will elaborate proposals concerning the legal status of women.

One hundred delegates representing 12 countries were present. The delegates, in addition to Miss Adams, are Emily Balch, Alice Hamilton, Florence Kelley, Jeannette Rankin and Lillian Wald.

"Guest" is O. K., But "Lodger" is Out of Luck

[BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS.]

Salem, Ore., May 28.—If you're a "guest" of an Oregon hotel and have your clothes "pinned" from your room, you can make the hotel proprietor pay. But if you're just a mere "roomer" or "lodger" you're out of luck.

This is the ruling as it stands today made by the state supreme court. A. M. McIntosh was a regular "roomer" in the Standish hotel, Portland. When his clothes were stolen he sued the hotel for $50. The lower courts granted the amount requested, but the supreme court overruled that decision, because McIntosh was not a transient "guest" but a steady "lodger."

Clutch Was On

Shawano, May 28.—When Edward Dumke, 41, cranked his automobile he forgot that the clutch was in the "forward" notch. When he started the motor the car pushed ahead, forced him across the sidewalk and up against the wall of a store building. His chest was crushed and he died in 15 minutes.

WHO'S WHO in the Day's News

BRIG. GEN. MACARTHUR.

Brig. Gen. Douglas MacArthur, who will assume his post as commandant of the military academy at West Point on June 12, is one of the youngest officers ever appointed to this important position.

BRIG. GEN. MACARTHUR.

He is only 39 years old, and is one of the most popular and widely known officers in the army. He is a son of Lieut. Gen. MacArthur, a civil war veteran who commanded a division in the Philippine campaign, and was appointed to West Point from Missouri in 1899. He graduated among the honor men of his class and received an appointment as second lieutenant of engineers in the Vera Cruz campaign and later was appointed aide to the secretary of war in charge of censorship.

He served as chief of staff of the Rainbow division from the time of his arrival in France until he was appointed to command the Eighth-fourth infantry brigade, which he led in the north of Verdun. While serving as chief of staff he personally took charge of the first raid staged by the division in the Salient du Poys. For his conduct under fire on this occasion he was awarded the distinguished service cross. Though wounded and suffering from gas poisoning he refused to be evacuated and continued to perform his duties at divisional headquarters. He previously had been awarded the Croix de Guerre for participation in an important raid by the French forces near Redoubt.

He was twice recommended by Major General Monther, commanding the Rainbow division during most of his active service, for promotion to major general and twice has been promoted by the French commanders for his extraordinary heroism in action at the capture of Illies 288 and 242 on October 15 and 16 he was cited again by the commander-in-chief and awarded a bronze oak leaf on the ribbon of the distinguished service cross previously awarded him. Part of his citation on that occasion reads: "On a field where courage was the rule his courage was the dominant feature."

General MacArthur's present commission is in the national army. On the recently issued army list his name is twenty-third on the list of majors of engineers in the regular establishment, but his appointment to the command at West Point is taken to mean that he will soon receive a higher grade in the regular army.

Wouldn't Have Auto

Manitowish, May 28.—A valuable team of black horses which was always driven by the late William Rahr was shot up on orders from the family and the animals were buried with their hides on. The late William Rahr, Sr., because of experiences which he had when automobiles were first introduced never bought a machine for his own use, although he would on occasion drive with his sons. He always used a fire team of horses in going about and during the gasless Sunday had the laugh on all of his friends. His aversion to autos was due to the fact that almost the first ride he had in one of them resulted in a fatal accident to one of his best friends and then after a number of years in which he refused to ride, he again agreed to ride at the earnest request of a friend at St. Louis. Another accident took place and the friend was crippled for life and while Mr. Rahr was unhurt his aversion to the motor was such that he refused to become an owner and for many years would not ride in them.

CLOWN TEACHES HEALTH

Washington May 28.—A new game in which every child can win a prize has been planned by the division of school hygiene of the bureau of education and is being taught to the children of Washington by Cho Cho, formerly a circus clown and now the newest thing in health teachers.

Cho Cho, the first clown to appear on a government pay roll, began in Washington recently the talks to school children which he is to repeat in other cities throughout the country.

Will Start Contest.

Far more than a year the division of school hygiene has been trying to bring up to normal the 6,000,000 underweight children in the United States.

Cho Cho has been enlisted to start a national health contest which every child would be eager to win, and competitive charts have been distributed by request to schools in 30 states. On these charts the children write their names, age, height, what their weight should be, and each month note their gain.

Here Are Rules.

These are Cho Cho's health rules, noted on the backs of the little tags given to the children when they are weighed and measured and told how much they have to gain at the rate of one-half pound a month:

"A full bath more than once a week."

"Brush the teeth at least once a day."

"Sleep long hours with windows open."

"Drink as much milk as possible, but no tea or coffee."

"Eat some vegetables or fruit every day."

"Drink at least four glasses of water every day."

"Play part of every day out of doors."

Throws Lollipops Away.

In the big auditorium, where children are brought to see him, Cho Cho, dressed in white satin with sequins and green doublet, produces from his ample pockets carrots, handfuls of spinach, bright red apples, oranges, peas and beans. With them he performs sleight of hand tricks, holds them up for the fascinated attention of the children, and impresses them on their imagination. Now and then he brings out a cucumber, a handful of egg salad, or a lollipop, and these he hurls with anger and violence into a remote corner.

Mothers Entertain Soldiers.

Shelbygan, May 28.—The war mothers of the Red Arrow men gave the 32nd division heroes a spread at Plymouth, followed by a dance. C. Corbett, one of the prominent citizens, was toastmaster. Addresses were given by Atty. M. C. Mead and J. H. Wheeler and responses by Allen Wade, Wayne Voser, Thomas Helmer, Sgt. Jones Donald, Donaldson, and Miss Wilson, Plymouth's Red Cross nurse who served overseas. A musical concert was a feature.

110 Soldiers Home

Menasha, May 28.—One hundred and ten returning members of Company E were welcomed home Saturday night by one of the greatest celebrations the Twin Cities have ever seen. A parade over a mile in length escorted to the business-section of the city where six thousand cheering people gave the company a great ovation.

Cho Cho.

Not Question of Income.

He gobbles rapidly and bolts his food, pours a glass of water down on top of it, and then rolls in well feigned distress. Next he sits up properly, cats with due deliberation and much obvious mastication, and then walks about humming and happy among the children.

According to the division of school hygiene, the underweight of children has little or nothing to do with income, but is a question of knowledge on the part of the children and their parents. The campaign of health education is to correct this condition.

[BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS.]

Springfield, Ill., May 28.—A pup becomes a dog the moment he sees the light of day, according to a ruling made by the attorney-general's office. The decision came when an assessor at Prophetstown wrote the attorney-general a man in his dominions had a dog and several puppies, refusing to turn in an assessment for the latter on the ground they were not yet dogs. Up-to-date dictionaries were referred to by the attorney-general and the opinion followed.

The Melon-choly Days

The Recording Angel dropped one big splashy tear as he stared down that summer day and saw what you two young devils were doing; but out of the respectable present you look yearningly back over the years and wish you were a boy again, if only for a chance to steal another watermelon as big and juicy and divine as that one was.

You crawled up to it on your stomach. Then you had to wait until the dinner-bell called the farmer in. Then you got it. It weighed about one-eighth of a ton, and you had to carry it about four miles to be safe. You cooled it in a spring in the woods. It took you ten minutes to dissect it, and an hour to eat it. That whole afternoon you couldn't wiggle—just be there in the cool woods, soaked with water-melon juice. My, how good it was! To call up those wicked old days, set a match to a Senero, the cigar of pleasant memories.

Golden Eagles Appear
Again in Berkshires

(BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS.)

Lenox, Mass., May 28.—Miss Adeline O. Johnson, instructor of music in the Lenox schools, acting as guide for six other young women, while hiking on West Stockbridge mountain ridge, saw two golden eagles flying low, and each carrying a lamb in its talons.

As Patrick Larkin, the shepherd of the Highland farm, reported the loss of two lambs from the flocks he watches, it is presumed that they were the property of William B. Osgood Field, New York, who owns the estate.

Old-timers assert that this is the first time in 50 years that golden eagles have been seen in the Berkshires.

HOW TO RAISE
BABY CHICKS

Put this in the drinking water.

Most people lose half of every hatch and seem to expect it. Chick cholera or white diarrhoea is the trouble. The U. S. government states that over half the chicks hatched die from this cause. An Avicol tablet, placed in the drinking water, will positively save you. Little chicks from all such diseases, inside of 15 hours the sick ones will be as lively as crickets. Avicol will keep them healthy and make them grow and develop more rapidly.

Mrs. Wm. May, Rago, Ind., writes: I was losing 10 to 15 chicks a day from diarrhoea before I received the Avicol. I haven't lost a one since.

It costs nothing to try Avicol. If you don't find that it prevents and promptly cures white diarrhoea, chick cholera and all bowel diseases, you may try it and your money will be refunded by return mail. Avicol is sold by most druggists and poultry remedy dealers, or you can send 25c or 50c today for a package by mail postpaid. Burrell-Dugger Co., 219 Columbia Bldg., Indianapolis, Ind.

"Old Club Foot" Shot,
Farmers Happy Again

(BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS.)

Elkin, W. Va., May 28.—"Old Club Foot" is dead and the farmers of this district are happy again. "Old Club Foot" was a big black bear that had roamed the mountains for many years. Hunters had shot at the bear innumerable times, but it seemed to have a charmed life. It was driven into a clearing recently and shot. The brute dressed 400 pounds and weighed 500 pounds gross. The bear got the name of "Old Club Foot" because of having been caught in a steel trap and escaping by leaving the toes of one foot in the trap. This made its tracks appear club footed.

if Drive is Success

Philadelphia, May 28.—Passing the Salvation Army tambourine for coin will be a thing of the past if the $1,000,000 drive now being waged here and in four surrounding counties goes over the top. No longer will the street corners, dance halls and other public places be the magnet to draw the Salvationists' solicitation, according to Colonel Richard E. Holz, who said that if the money is raised all effort will be directed toward ministering to the poor and afflicted.

Carloads of Kisses
Block Divorce Suit

(BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS.)

Los Angeles, Cal., May 28.—Three hundred and thirty carloads of kisses and 457 barrels of hugs' aided Mrs. Anna E. Jones in blocking a suit for divorce instituted by her husband, William T. Jones, in the superior court here. Mrs. Jones was not the bestower of all the kisses or the car-resses, but in Judge Craill's court, where she appeared to oppose Jones' charge of desertion, she introduced letters alleged to have been written to Jones from "Gertie," "Gertrude" and "Mamie."

"Gertrude," in one letter sent "330 carloads of kisses and 457 barrels of hugs," "S. W. A. K.," which appeared in one letter, was in-terpreted as meaning "sealed with a kiss." In one letter a whole page was devoted to "77's and K's," indicating kisses, it was said.

The court denied Jones a decree.

Couples Together Less Than Year Supply 50
Percent of Divorces

(BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS.)

Los Angeles, Cal., May 28.—Fifty percent of the divorces are filed in cases where husband and wife live to-gether less than a year. Motherhood has no part in one-half the divorce cases. Motherhood preserves the home by protecting it from selfish and petty quarrels.

These observations were expressed by Superior Judge Fred H. Taft from actual experience in the divorce court. Children whose parents have sepa-rated are likely to grow up with an unnatural attitude toward the parent with whom they have not lived, he said.

Footville All Pepped Up Over Coming Game

By George McManus.

VILLAGERS ARE PULLING FOR BIG WIN OVER JANES

(By KID BIPPE.)
Footville is all a-roar over the coming game there with the Lawrenceville team Friday afternoon.
As an indication of just how anxious the village White Sox are for a victory they have been pulling all the wires they know of this week in an attempt to get Babe Eldred to pitch for them instead of for the Janes. This is a little inside dope which probably should not be let out, but it goes to show that they want to beat the Janes if they don't win another game this year.
But, the Rubie isn't going to play with the Sox.
Manager Murphy says he has him all signed up and there is no danger of him wearing anything but a Lawrenceville uniform. Unless more fans turn out to see the next game here it may become necessary to let Eldred go. It takes a little cash to get a pitcher who can win games like he can.
The Janes will invade Footville with a good-sized crew of rooters. The team will leave in cars from the Myers hotel corner at 12:30 Friday noon, making the trip overland. Injunction today were that a large number of loyal fans would go over there in cars to see the boys in action again.
Footville will turn out en masse. A victory over Janesville would mean a lot in that village. The Sox have already waited the Blackhawk a couple of times and are considered the fastest bunch in the county outside of the Beloit Fairies and the Janes.
Miller Only Man Absent.
With that one exception the team keystone sack, the same line-up will face Footville as that which pounded out an 8 to 4 victory over the Edgerton Highway Riders here Sunday. Miller is going on a sight-seeing trip down around Milwaukee way. He may run around and get a few tips from Hostil, second baseman for the Brewers.
Manager Murphy has his eyes open for a man to take his place Friday. He has several on the string, but has not definitely decided who he will take.
With that one exception the team will remain intact. The Rubie will be on the mound with Tommie Crooks behind the bat. Young Albie Bick, the port-sider will be ready to tame the Sox hitters if Eldred should fail. There is a possibility that Bick will start the game.
"It all depends on how they look in practice," Murphy said today.
Pierce will perform at shortstop. He ought to be good for a couple of good hits.
Bergigan, Madison star here last Sunday, will hold down the initial sack. He is said to be a better hitter than Kleinheinz, although he didn't get a hit last Sunday. He is accustomed to facing pitchers with smoke and seemed to be unable to find one of Olson's slow, round house outs for a drive Sunday.
At third, Neil Dopp will be seen. Nuff sed. Out in the garden, Vinex, Kakuska and Rice, another Madison blitzer, will start.
The rest of the team are three or four and are among the heaviest hitters on the team. Each can be counted on for a few safe drives.
Batter like a wild man the last two games. He has a record of six hits out of eight times at bat. Kakuska was the boy who slashed out the red hot three-bagger in the same Sunday.
Rice drove out a double.
In all probability Smith of Broadhead will pitch for the Sox. Little is known of his ability, but he has done obtained from the Chicago Hawks no slouch. He will have to have more than an out-curve if he wants to tame the Janes' sluggers.

BRINGING UP FATHER

Six Road Racing Champions in Liberty Race

Six drivers who have won nine world's championship road races in Europe and America will face, the starter in the 500-mile Liberty Sweepstakes at Indianapolis, May 31st—Jules Bablot, Louis Wagner, Eddie Pullen, Dario Resta, Ralph Mulford and Ralph DePalma.
Bablot, in 1913, captured one of the dual Grand Prix races run that year, relinquishing the other only to the late George Bollet, his greatest rival. In the race in which first honors were denied him he finished second, being beaten only by a hair.
Louis Wagner crossed the seas in 1906 and took one of the early Vanderbilt runs on Long Island. Two years later he returned and won the first American Grand Prix race at Savannah. In 1914, just before the world war, he teamed with the Mercedes aggregation in the French Grand Prix, and drove his car into second place, being bested only by the celebrated Lautenschlager, his team captain.
Eddie Pullen is the only American ever to win the American Grand Prize with an American car. He accomplished this feat in 1914, when he outdistanced the field in a Mercer. He will drive a Hudson this year at Indianapolis.
Dario Resta is the only driver ever to win both the Vanderbilt and Grand Prize races the same year, scoring two consecutive wins in these contests during the San Francisco world's fair, in 1915. Dario has been driving a Peugeot since his arrival in this country, but this year is back with his first love, the Sunbeam.
Ralph DePalma shared with the late Harry Grant the honor of having won two Vanderbilt Cup races, one in 1912 at Milwaukee, and the other in 1914 at Santa Monica. Ralph also has a string of other road races at his belt, notably the last two contests at Elgin in 1915.
Ralph Mulford won the 1911 Vanderbilt at Savannah, the same year he finished second at Indianapolis. Since then he has been somewhat out of luck, but this year promises to stage a determined comeback.
With six such stars in competition, each a diamond of purest water, with long strings of victories to his credit, the chase for the $50,000 prize on May 31st promises to be the hardest fought in the history of the Indianapolis tract, greatest race course in the world.

Sport Snap Shots

By JACK KEENE
When Larry Doyle, racing in front second base on Heinie Zimmerman's double to right center, crossed the plate in a recent game between the Giants and the Reds on the Polo grounds, he broke a string of twenty-three consecutive scoreless innings which Hod Eller of the Reds had amassed for himself. Included in the twenty-three innings were nine innings of hitless ball, which the young right hander hung up at the expense of the Chicago Cubs and a shutout registered in spite of the efforts of the Brooklyn Dodgers. Eller got rid of the Giants in easy fashion in the first inning of the Giant game which broke his streak, but was severely bumped in the second and retired in the third.
Cliff Durant, the California millionaire whose hobby is auto racing, plans to compete in a series of races this coming season. Immediately after the Indianapolis races he will probably ship his car on to the speedway at Sheepshead Bay to prepare for the race on June 14th.
Durant follows the lead of the other millionaires in the racing game. W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., and the late Harry Farness both raced their own machines and spent fortunes to make auto racing a popular sport in the country. Durant is one of the most efficient drivers now in the racing game and his one idea is to show the drivers and the motor racing lovers that he is the peer of both Ralph De Palma and Resta.
Manager Mitchell of the champion Cubs in an effort to break his team's losing streak made several changes in the batting order recently. Pick placed Deal at third and was selected to lead off in place of Plack. Lear, who has been occupying a seat on the bench, was sent to second and held down the cleanup post in the order of going to the plate. Barber who batted fourth in the games against the Giants, was dropped down a peg, as

HIGH SCHOOL CLASS WINS FIRST HALF OF DUAL MEET, 44-10

Amid the shouts and cheers of enthusiastic rooters, the high school class carried away honors in the first half of the dual track meet with the employed boys' class at the Y. M. C. A. last night. Although the high school athletes had to travel all the time, they were easily masters of the program and won first honors in each event and placed two men in each.
The contestants were awarded their ribbons after each event. The 500 yard run and the 350 yard dash were both thrillers. The total points scored by each class were: High school class 44; employed boys 10.
In the 120 yd. dash, Emmons substituted for Raubacher, and Griffey for Grasslin. Both put up good battles in their heats, but Ronald Smith was too fast for the other and won handsily with Todd another high enant in second place and Emmons, third. High school scored 5; employed boys 1.
The 50 yd. run was a thriller in the preliminaries, when Newman defeated Sullivan, after both lads had spun around the track for the eight laps at heart breaking speed. Grubb, another high entrant in this event, took a pretty race from Balfe of the employed boys also at a terrific pace. The finals looked bright for a thrilling haet between the high entrants for first and second, but they seemed to have got together and doped the race out much to the dissatisfaction of the spectators, as they only trotted out their distance with Newman taking first. Chances were even, too, for Grubb to have won the first place when ribbon had they fought it out. So went a golden opportunity for Mr. Grubb. High school class, 5 points; employed boys, 1.
The 250 yd. dash was a disappointment to the employed boys class, when McClusky fell on the first turn and took only a third place, while Atwood was beaten by Griffey for an easy first place. High school class, 3 points; employed boys, 1 point.
The running high jump, standing broad jump, 220 yd. potato race, shot put and relay will be held Friday night.

employed boys, 1.
Powers of the high school class easily won first place in the hurdles, with Dickinson of the employed boys taking second and Crowley of the high class placing third. High school class, 5 points; employed boys, 4 points.
The 350 yd. dash was an equivalent to the preliminaries of the 500 yd. run, for thrills when Ewing, of the high school class and Pallette of the employed boys class battled in six laps at a terrific speed and to a hair line finish with Ewing noing out first. Palmer placed third. High school class, 6 points; employed boys, 3 points.
The 250 yd. hurdles event was won by a hair's breadth by Bick over his team mate Phil Smith, with Felts third. High school class 5 points; employed boys, 1.
The 250 yd. dash was a disappointment to the employed boys class, when McClusky fell on the first turn and took only a third place, while Atwood was beaten by Griffey for an easy first place. High school class, 3 points; employed boys, 1 point.
The running high jump, standing broad jump, 220 yd. potato race, shot put and relay will be held Friday night.

Anti-Fight Bill Blocked
Columbus, O., May 28.—Representative Robert C. Dunn of Wood county, who is trying to get through an emergency law which will give the Governor power to revoke Toland-Dempsey fight on July 4, had no better success yesterday than Monday.
It was given a second reading, but when Dunn tried to have the rules suspended and the bill taken up at once there was a roll call. He failed to get three-fourths majority, the vote being 40 to 45. It was settled that the emergency clause cannot be passed with two-thirds majority.

Thomas Shows Speed
Indianapolis, Ind., May 28.—Prospects that France will win the 500-mile automobile race at the Indianapolis Speedway were intensified yesterday when in the eliminating trials Rene Thomas, in a Ballot machine, turned a lap in 1:26:59, or the equivalent of 104.70 miles an hour.
Incidentally this figure breaks the supposed unbeatable track record made by Barney Oldfield in the old 1,500-cubic-inch Christie. This was made in 1916, and the rate of speed was 102.58 miles per hour.
70 Athletes Going Over
New York, May 28.—More than seventy of the most prominent track and field athletes of the United States with a sprinkling of boxers, wrestlers, swimmers and tennis players were selected to augment the team which will represent this country in the inter-allied games at Paris June 24 to July 6, at a meeting of the Amateur Athletic Union officials here last night. The list includes several world record holders and a number boasting either A. A. U. or inter-collegiate championships.

Flashes From The Diamond

(By KID BIPPE.)
Of the eleven hits collected by the Giants yesterday while cleaning up the Pirates two were recent drives piled by Kaut and Chase.
The Braves after being blanked by the Cubs, announced the sale of Al Wiekland to St. Paul and Joe Kelly to Toledo. Both were formerly outfielders with Indianapolis.
George Sisler drove in three of the Browns' runs during the defeat of the Yankees. And "Home Run" Baker did it again.
Willie Cook, who is to Uncle Wilbert Robinson what Brutus was to Casper, allowed the Dodgers but four scattered hits while the Cards were pouncing out a victory out of Mammas.
Tom Phillips, a New Orleans recruit, pitched the Indians to victory over the Red Sox and helped himself to three singles.
Babe Ruth's triple during the Red Sox defeat, was the longest hit ever seen on the Cleveland grounds.
Cravath's drive over the right field garden wall in the second game of the series with the Red Sox.
Phillips the second game of the series with the Red Sox.
Dutch Leonard, making his debut with the Tigers yielded five scattered hits. After the second inning the Athletics got only two men as far as second base.
Walter Johnson lost his second game of the series while the Sox cleared up the Senators. It was the sixth consecutive game which the Senators have lost by one score.
Coast Baseball Stars Must Also Be Actors
Los Angeles, Cal., May 28.—Every baseball player an actor doing funny gyrations before the movie camera with the possibility of some of them developing into high-class funmakers is the scheme to be tried out on the Vernon club of the Pacific Coast baseball league. At Los Angeles, the movie star and recent purchaser of the Vernon club, is making a move in that direction. Arbuckle is working on a baseball picture and the Vernon players will be assigned to places in the cast.
